RECEIVED: The review was presented by AMK

NOTED:

- a) Your Officer elections are currently taking place and the results of this will come to the next Governance committee as part of the elections action plan.
- b) In regards to Your Rep and Council Elections 2015, the following discussion took place:
 - i. The process of communicating what a Rep is and the importance of the role need to be improved. 'Great Reps' should be used to highlight the impact that the Reps have.
 - ii. The Union should be equipping the candidates with skills in regards to being a candidate but it was recognised that these elections take place at a very busy time of the year.
- c) There is no evidence to support the theory that closed nominations put off members for standing as candidates.
 - i. Anecdotally it is thought by some members that not knowing who they are standing is a barrier to them standing.
 - ii. There is an element of 'filling the position the best way how' in smaller clubs.
 - iii. The Student Survey asks the question 'why didn't you run for a position in an election'. AMK stated that he include the response in the Action Plan.

- f) In regards to the Big Elections 2015, the following discussion took place:
 - i. Timings for Information and Training sessions are perhaps not the best. Monthly information and Training sessions through the year may be an option.
 - ii. The information session are trying to target members who are not active participators in the Union and to break the myth that you need to be heavily involved in the Union to be a successful candidate.
 - iii. It was requested the following data be included in the Action Plan:
 - How many visitors to the Training and Information page.
 - Who stood as candidates in comparison to the groups that were targeted to be encouraged to stand i.e. international and postgraduate students.

ACTION:

3. AMK to include the following data in the Action Plan:

- How many visitors to the Training and Information page.
 - Who stood as candidates in comparison to the groups that were targeted to be encouraged to stand i.e. international and postgraduate students.
- iv. The Clubs, Societies and Projects that were hesitant to engage with the process of being included in the Big Elections fell in to 3 categories:
- Various levels of membership participation, i.e. facilitators of activity and those who engage in activity (such as Cinema)
 - Wanted to engage but had already planned their elections around a large event
 - Those who were not adhering to the election regulations. The majority of these clubs did not know they were breaking election regulations or if they did, felt that they had dispensation to do so because they were 'unique'
- v. The Governance Committee expressed strongly that they do not want to make it difficult for CSP's to engage in elections or lose their identity but the Big Elections 2015 have highlighted undemocratic practices that are being undertaken by some groups. Equal and Equitable are the democratic principles and legal requirement that the Union Officers must adhere to when undertaking elections.
- vi. It was agreed that the President and Deputy President Clubs & Societies worked well in regards to making the decision of excluding Clubs, Societies and Projects with membership over 150 and reporting these to the Committee. This gives the Clubs, Societies and Projects the opportunity of challenging their decision to the Governance Committee.
- vii. AMK stated that he will work with the Membership Services team to work out an approach to solve the democratic issues that exist within some CSPs. This may take the approach of training and or issuing a set of principles.

- x. JC stated that UAE asked him to compile a Returning Officer report. It was requested that JC circulate the UAE Returning Officer report template.

ACTION:

5. JC circulate the UAE Returning Officer report template.

- g) It was agreed that elections and the idea of democracy needs to be spoken about all year round to embed the idea.
- h) Postgraduate engagement, although positive this year, is still an area that needs to be improved.
- i) It was suggested to use external trustees and influential people in college to promote the positives of democracy and being involved in elections.
